

Churchwardens' Chat - April

Keeping Calm and Carrying On

We had meant to write to you explaining how we intended to maintain our pattern of worship, particularly during Holy Week and Easter. As by now you will have read, the Church of England has now decided to suspend formal services and church meetings for the foreseeable future.

Obviously, we hope to get back to “business as usual” as soon as possible. Do keep an eye on the Holy Trinity website, Facebook page, and noticeboards for any announcements. In the meantime, we hope to be able to make resources available via the website and Facebook, so that we can keep in touch as a community.

Normally we hold our “AGM”, the Annual Parochial Church Meeting or APCM, at the end of April. This meeting offers a chance to review the past year’s achievements and look forward to the year ahead. As things stand, this meeting won’t be going ahead in its usual format, and we are awaiting guidance from the Diocese about how and when to proceed.

Thank You

All being well, we look forward to welcoming Gwyneth back to her parish duties during April. We would like to take this opportunity therefore to extend a heartfelt “thank you” to Ian Calder, Martin Riley and Simon Monk who have stepped in and enabled us to maintain our regular pattern of worship without the need to ask the Diocese for help.

Thank you all – we really could not have done it without you!

Steven and Lynn
